

Court To Rule On Michigan's Grand Jury Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed Monday to rule on the constitutionality of Michigan's 37-year-old one-man grand jury law.

The law permits Michigan judges to conduct secret one-man investigations of crime. Its validity was challenged by two Detroit men found guilty of contempt last May after appearing before Recorder's (Criminal) Judge John P. O'Hara's police-graft grand jury.

False Swearing Charged
The two men are John J. White, 45, Detroit hotel owner, and Lee Roy Murchison, 36, a suspended Detroit policeman. The two were subpoenaed to appear before O'Hara during an investigation of police corruption in connection with gambling.

White told O'Hara his name but refused to answer any questions unless his attorney was present. O'Hara found White guilty of contempt and sentenced him to 90 days and fined him $250.

Murchison testified but denied visiting the Detroit home of Edward (Indian Steve) Stephen. Stephen pleaded guilty Monday before Recorder's Judge George Murphy to charges of conspiring to violate the state gambling laws.

Testimony of two other police officers contradicted Murchison's grand jury testimony and O'Hara found him guilty of contempt for false swearing. Murchison was sentenced to 90 days in jail by O'Hara.

Judge Goes Ahead
The two men appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court after the State Supreme Court after the petition to review the O'Hara sentence.

Judge O'Hara, commenting on the federal high court's decision to rule on the validity of the 1917 grand jury law, said:

"The grand jury will proceed in action under the assumption that our Michigan law is valid for our state and that it will be upheld by the Supreme Court."

"If the Supreme Court rules the law is unconstitutional, we're out of business. We are in an uncertain position, but will continue to proceed with our investigation."

Judge O'Hara has been authorized to continue his police grand jury investigation until March 15.

Moslem Plotters Hanged In Cairo

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Six members of the extremist Moslem Brotherhood were hanged in Cairo's military prison today for plotting to assassinate Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser and overthrow his government.

Disregarding pleas for clemency from other Moslem countries, Egypt's governing Revolutionary Council carried out the executions ordered by a military court which convicted the men Saturday on the plotting charge.

First to die was Mahmoud Abdel Latif, a tinsmith who fired eight wild shots at Nasser on Oct. 26 during an Alexandria rally.

The other five executed were Youssef Talaat, head of the brotherhood's secret order; Hindawi Duweir, accused of furnishing the pistol used in the assassination attempt; Ibrahim El Tayeb, head of the secret order's Cairo branch; Abdel Kader Oda, and Mohamed Farghali, the order's leader in the Ismailia district.

The brotherhood's top leader, Supreme Guide Hassan El Hodeiby, also was sentenced to death but this later was commuted to life imprisonment at hard labor.

Democrats Ridicule Report That Budget Can't Be Balanced

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats today hopped on Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey's declaration that a balanced budget is out for next year. Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) charged it made "political clackety-clack" of 1952 Republican campaign pledges.

Humphrey told a news conference Monday, "We cannot balance the budget" during the year starting next July 1. He said every effort would be made to keep the deficit below three billion dollars.

Mitchell Backs Repeal Of State Union Ban Laws

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell today came out flatly against state "right-to-work" laws outlawing labor contract provisions that workers must become union members.

Mitchell's declaration that he was opposed "categorically" to such laws now in effect in 17 states, mostly in the South and West, came as a surprise in a speech prepared for the annual CIO convention.

Labor unions are as much or more concerned with getting such laws repealed and preventing enactment of new ones in other states as they are with changing or repealing the federal Taft-Hartley law.

More Harm Than Good
Both the CIO and AFL have outlined campaigns to have state legislatures ditch the "right-to-work" laws next year. They generally make illegal any labor contract arrangement for the union shop or similar proviso requiring workers to join unions.

Mitchell, whose speech also conveyed "warm personal greetings" to the CIO from President Eisenhower, practically invited the repeal of such laws by recommending that they be "further considered" by states.

"They will find that these laws do more harm than good," he said. "In the first place, these 'right-to-work' laws do not create any jobs at all. In the second place, they result in undesirable and unnecessary limitations upon the freedom of working men and women and their employers to bargain collectively."

"Thirdly, they restrict union security and thereby undermine the basic strength of labor organizations. I oppose such laws categorically."

Adopted In South
The Taft-Hartley law permits union shop contract clause but specifically says they are illegal in any state which prohibits them.

The wisdom and morality of compulsory union membership have provided one of the classic arguments in labor relations. Unions claim that nonmembers they represent are "free riders" and get collective bargaining gains without contributing to the cost by paying dues. The employers steadfastly maintain it is wrong to make workers join unions.

"I believe," said Mitchell, "that when employers and unions representing a majority of their employees agree on a union shop they should have the right to have one."

And he confirmed a previous forecast that the deficit for the present fiscal year, ending next June 30, would be in the vicinity of 4 1/2 billion dollars.

Sparkman and Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) assailed the administration for what they called "utterly unrealistic" 1952 campaign promises to cut spending and balance the budget.

Sen. Ives (R-NY) said Humphrey's statement would guarantee a "very careful study" by Congress of tax reduction scheduled for next spring.

These include a decrease from 52 to 47 per cent in the corporate income tax rate and a reduction in a number of excise (sales) taxes. Humphrey said he couldn't anticipate whether President Eisenhower will suggest abandoning the cuts. But his comments encouraged the belief that the administration will oppose any tax decreases next year.

Prince Shows Santa Bicycle He Wants

LONDON (AP)—Prince Charles, heir apparent to the British throne, told Santa Claus firmly that what he wants for Christmas is a bicycle. And not just any bicycle either.

Taking Santa by the hand in the toy department of a London store Monday, the 6-year-old prince led him over to an array of shining wheels, put his hand on one of them and said:

"This is the one, the very one." "I see I will have to make a special note of this," said Santa Claus.

Quick UN Approval Predicted For Move To Free U.S. Airmen

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Western diplomats predicted today that the U. N. Assembly will vote speedy approval of a resolution by the 16 Korean allies demanding release of 11 American airmen held in Red China on spy charges.

The 15-nation Steering Committee voted over bitter Soviet opposition Monday night to call for urgent Assembly debate Wednesday on the Allied proposal.

The resolution touches on three main points:

1. It charges Red China violated the Korean armistice agreement by holding the fliers.

2. It declares the Assembly should condemn such violations.

3. It asks the 60-nation body to call on Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to use "unremitting efforts" to obtain release of the men and report back to the Assembly by Dec. 31.

American sources said they anticipate no opposition to the resolution except from the five-nation Soviet bloc and perhaps a few Arab-Asian states.

Informed sources predicted India would abstain on the resolution to avoid being aligned with either side in case she is requested to act as go-between with Peiping.

Japanese Premier Quits In Face Of Opposition

No Change Made In Lansing GOP Senate Leaders

LANSING (AP)—Senate Republicans, presenting a unified front for the 1955 legislative session, Monday re-elected their present leadership.

They agreed to allow Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, a Democrat, to sit on the "Committee on Committees" which makes committee assignments for the entire chamber and otherwise supervises patronage.

Sen. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek), leader of the "Young Turk" group which took over the Senate last year, retained his post as caucus chairman without opposition. Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo), was re-elected floor leader.

Committees Enlarged
Sen. Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing), who was chosen president pro tempore last year after being unseated as caucus head, was re-elected president pro tem again, defeating Sen. Frank Andrews (R-Hillman).

The caucus said the Republican majority would re-elect Fred I. Chase of Lansing as Senate secretary.

Tom Leonard of Ferndale was re-elected sergeant-at-arms and retiring Rep. Harry Hermann (R-Laurium) was elected deputy sergeant.

In closed session, the caucus enlarged the committee on committees from five to seven members.

Elected to the committee were Coleman, Hart, Hittle, Don Vander Werp (R-Fremont), Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield), Morris and Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville).

May Challenge Wilkowski
Coleman said the caucus did not discuss the controversy over seating Sen.-elect Anthony J. Wilkowski (D-Hamtramck), who was refused a seat four years ago because he had previously been convicted of an elections fraud.

Coleman said it had not been decided whether Wilkowski's seating would be debated by the caucus "or left to each senator's own conscience."

He said informal discussions preceding the caucus indicated that one or more senators will challenge Wilkowski's right to be seated and force the issue to a floor vote.

Angered at disputes with the House over the salaries to be paid legislative employees, the caucus agreed to have the Senate fix the wages of its own employers regardless of House ideas.

More Rock Slides At Niagara Falls; Beauty Unscarred

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—A new rockfall along the crest-line of the American side of Niagara Falls has sent an estimated 2,500 tons of rock plunging into the Niagara River Gorge. However, the beauty of the falls remains unscarred.

The rockfall, second on the American side this year, occurred midway between Luna Island and Prospect Point, a popular observation area on the American mainland. It was detected last weekend by crews operating lights at the falls.

Pellston Again Coldest Spot In United States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Michigan, for the second day in a row, was the nation's icebox.

And forecasters expect some near zero temperatures tonight, before a warmup Wednesday.

There is little snow, except in the Upper Peninsula, in the outlook for tomorrow or Thursday, and the localized storm that dumped up to 22 inches in the Michigan Thumb yesterday as petered out.

Pellston got an overnight low of 12 below zero to become twice in a row the nation's coldest spot. It had 10 below Sunday night.

Other overnight lows, practically all of them the lowest of the winter in the respective communities, were: Cadillac, -10; Traverse City, -3; Houghton, -5; Grand Marais, -8; Gladwin, 5; Saginaw, 9; Battle Creek, 10; Flint and Jackson, 11, and Detroit, 18.

It wasn't expected to get above freezing anywhere in Michigan today. Highs ranging from 23 to 30 were predicted in the south and 24 to 28 in the Upper Peninsula.

Thursday's outlook, however, is for highs ranging from 30 to 35 everywhere.

Fair and cold today and tonight, with increasing cloudiness and not quite so cold Wednesday was the official U. S. Weather Bureau forecast for all of Michigan.

It said occasional snow was likely in west Upper Michigan today and over the entire Upper Peninsula Thursday. It foresaw none for the Lower Peninsula.

Slow Ore Season Of 1953 Near End; Tonnage Far Down

CLEVELAND (AP)—The 1953 ore-shipping season on the Great Lakes has ended with one of the smallest total movements in recent years.

When the final boatload of the red dirt was unloaded last week, the season's tonnage stopped at 60,793,697 tons. That amount is more than 35,000,000 tons under the record 95,844,449 hauled in 1953, the Lake Superior Iron Ore Assn. reported today.

The slump was intentional and due to the slackening of steel needs in the past year. With the exception of 1946, the year of the big strike, 1954 goes down as the slowest ore season in the past 15 years.

While some cargoes of coal, limestone, grain and petroleum are still on the books, the entire navigation season is near a close. Most of the 40 steamers still operating in Lake Superior are Canadian vessels.

Rafts With 11 Survivors Hunted After Tug Sinks In Choppy Gulf

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A rescue ship reported today it had picked up three survivors from a sunken tug in the Gulf of Mexico off the Florida coast.

A short time later, the Coast Guard said one of its planes reported sighting a life raft with two survivors and was picking them up. The Coast Guard said the plane was equipped to land on water.

The ship Helen Lykes, one of the five ships searching for crewmembers of the sunken tug Bertha R, radioed the Coast Guard here that had lowered a boat to pick up the three men. The Bertha R had an 11-man crew.

Names of the survivors were not available.

Admiral Shifts Blame For Pearl Harbor On 13th Anniversary Day

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 13th anniversary of Pearl Harbor has brought another denial from one of the two commanders then on the scene that he could be blamed for the debacle that fired this country into World War II.

Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel writes in a new book that high officials of the Roosevelt administration were at fault and must be judged "like any other criminal."

He contends again that any chance to meet the sneak attack was lost because Washington failed to relay advance warnings that Japan was up to something.

Kimmel says one last-minute warning was sent him on a non-priority basis but did not arrive until after the Japanese attack.

Worst In History
But he apparently does not lay the disastrous end to his career in the Navy to the then service chiefs, Gen. George C. Marshall and Adm. Harold R. Stark.

Kimmel assails what he terms "lack of action" by the War and Navy departments. But he says this "must have been in accordance with high political direction, because the officers in both these departments repeatedly demonstrated both before and after Pearl Harbor that they were not careless, inefficient or incompetent."

Kimmel, now 72, recalls the worst defeat in U. S. military history in a book to be published next month by Henry Regency Co., Chicago. It's entitled "Admiral Kimmel's Story." Excerpts appear in the current issue of the magazine U. S. News and World Report.

Judged Like Criminals
"I cannot excuse those in authority for what they did," Kimmel writes, "and I do not believe that thousands of mothers and fathers whose sons perished on that tragic seventh of December will excuse them."

Kimmel also defends Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short, Army commander

Sheppards Pictured As Happy Family By Defense Witnesses

CLEVELAND (AP)—A picture of a handsome, dark-haired osteopath—the charge that his motive for murder arose from his relations with other women.

Devoted Husband
Sheppard's story is that someone broke into his home and battered his wife to death as she lay in bed in an upstairs room while he took a nap on a couch downstairs. He says the killer struck him down when he ran to help her, severely injuring him in the struggle.

Step by step, Sheppard's lawyers have been building a defense, based in large part on a description of his married life as told by members of the family. They picture him as a devoted husband and Marilyn as a happy wife, mother of one child and expecting another.

"They were happy just being together," With these words, Mrs. Stephen Sheppard, his sister-in-law summarized her view of the marriage.

Marital Rifts Denied
Mrs. Sheppard is married to the older brother of the accused man. Of Dr. Sam she said—"He was like all normal husbands. He helped Marilyn a great deal. He was very generous in helping her."

"He was very respectful to her. They did a great many things together and with Chip (the son, now seven). They did lots of sports together. They were very happy just being together."

Under cross-examination Mrs. Sheppard stuck firmly to her statement that she knew of no rifts in the marriage. She returned a series of emphatic "no's" to Prosecutor John J. Mahon when he asked her about divorce talk.

London Playboy Jailed As Thief

LONDON (AP)—Debonair Harold Lough White, long a dashing figure in the gilded high society of London's Mayfair district, was sentenced Monday to seven years in prison as a safe-blower.

The 46-year-old playboy, who was on first name terms with many socialites, was exposed by police witnesses as a big time thief.

Sentenced with Lough White was his "intelligence officer," Gordon Simpson, 35, who drew a six-year term. An insurance broker, Simpson tipped the master mind off to the whereabouts of heavily insured valuables.

Two other accomplices—George Chatham, 42, and Robert Melrose, 40—got 10 years apiece because they had long criminal records.

Yoshida Reaches End Of Trail As Power In Nippon

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida, the sly old fox who guided Japan's destinies through seven troubled postwar years, stepped down today in the face of overwhelming opposition from both the right and left.

His likely successor is Ichiro Hatoyama, a conservative pro-American, as is Yoshida. Unlike Yoshida, however, Hatoyama favors diplomatic relations and increased trade with Russia and Red China within a framework of friendship with the West.

Ruled With Iron Hand
The Diet (Parliament) will vote Wednesday or Thursday on a new leader.

Yoshida and his cabinet resigned just hours before the Diet almost certainly would have toppled his government with a no-confidence vote. Hatoyama led the conservative — Socialist coalition that introduced the no-confidence motion Sunday. The coalition controls about 253 votes in the powerful lower house. Yoshida could muster but 185.

Until the revolt against him, Yoshida ruled the Diet with an iron hand, backed by a working majority in the lower house. Hatoyama may find the road more difficult. He must depend to some extent on the Socialists, who said again today they would support him at least temporarily.

Business Relieved
The resignation may mean the end of the political trail for the 78-year-old Yoshida, who signed the San Francisco peace treaty for Japan and maintained close liaison with the Western nations. He will remain a member of the diet, but beyond that his future is cloudy.

The stock market shot up immediately after the announcement that Yoshida was stepping aside. The action reflected the relief of business leaders who had feared that Yoshida would carry out his threat to dissolve the Diet and call an expensive national election in a fight to retain power.

Such an election probably would have hurt both conservative factions and aided only the Socialists.

Can't Trust Russia
The businessmen who bankroll Yoshida's Liberal party leaders, have been urging Yoshida to resign. He held on through four hours of heated debate this morning, but finally threw in the towel.

Hatoyama has said there will be no change in Japan's relations with the United States if he is elected.

Straits Bridge Builders Sued

BAY CITY (AP)—U. S. Commissioner Clarence S. Pettit ordered the Mackinac Bridge Authority Monday to withhold $74,482 from any payments due Merritt-Chapman & Scott, contractors for the substructure of a $99,000,000 bridge now being built across the Straits of Mackinac.

Wiltie Bros. Corp., of Rockport, Mich., which built the major foundation caissons for the bridge, is suing Merritt-Chapman & Scott for $74,482 which Wiltie claims is due on the caissons. No details of the dispute were disclosed in the suit filed in U. S. District Court in Bay City last week.

Commissioner Pettit ordered the bridge authority and its financial agent, the Detroit Trust Co., to withhold $74,482 from any payments due Merritt-Chapman & Scott until the suit is settled.

The authority has held the suit to be a matter between the two contractors and not one affecting the authority in any manner.

Rain-Making Machine Wrecked By Sabotage

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Any rain that Laguna Beach gets in the immediate future will have to be a gift of nature.

Someone has sabotaged the town's rain-making machine. The device, which shoots acid crystals into rain clouds, was found dismantled, and a gauge and the tubing was stolen. The city plans to replace it.

Police Trace Accident Gun

Michigan State Police ballistics experts in Lansing have reported that the bullet that struck Robert Van Ende, 46, of Armada, Mich. in a hunting accident in the Stonington Peninsula Nov. 17 was fired from the gun of Timothy Simmons of Royal Oak.

Simmons was one of several hunters who fired shots at deer at the time Van Ende was struck in the knee by a .32 caliber bullet. It was impossible to determine which hunter was responsible for Van Ende's injury. State Police recovered the bullet from Van Ende's knee and sent to the ballistics laboratory the rifles of hunters using .32 caliber bullets.

The tests indicated that the markings of Simmons' rifle bullets corresponded with the bullet that hit Van Ende.

Prosecutor Nick Chapekis reported that it has not yet been decided what charge, if any, will be placed against Simmons.

Van Ende's injury was not too serious as the bullet did not strike a bone in his knee.

Deadline Is Jan. 3 For Candidates In Township Elections

Prospective candidates for township offices in the townships of Delta County and throughout the state have until 4 p. m., Jan. 3, to file nominating petitions so their names will be on the ballot at the spring election.

Nominating petition forms may be obtained by candidates from the clerk of the township, and they must be filed with the clerk after they have been filled out.

At the township elections to be held the first Monday in April, voters will elect a supervisor, clerk, treasurer, members of the board of review and two trustees, all for terms of two years each.

In townships where the number of candidates require it, primary elections will be held Feb. 21.

Ensign Township in Delta County, which has a township park system, will also elect a park and highway commissioner.

Anderson sang "God Understands" and "I Have A Friend", the last hymn in Swedish. Accompanist was Mrs. F. M. Fernstrom.

Pallbearers were Erick Fredrickson, Nels Swanson, August Eckman, Emil Stenstrom, George Hedsten and Zlatko Derouin.

Out-of-town relatives attending were Hjalmer Norrell, Chicago, and Mrs. Donald McGee, Benton Harbor.

County-School Tax Bills Out

Owners of taxable property in the city of Escanaba tomorrow will begin receiving their bills for the payment of county and school taxes at levies slightly higher than last year.

The total levy for county and school purposes this year in the city of Escanaba is $324,183.25, compared to last year's total of $308,743.24.

School tax this year in the city of Escanaba will be based on the state equalized valuation of property assessed for tax purposes, rather than on the lower county equalized figure. For this reason the school tax rate will be $8.39 per $1,000 valuation, or $1.39 per $1,000 above the rate set by the Delta County Tax Allocation Commission.

Escanaba city schools at the $8.39 rate based on the state equalized valuation will receive $131,448.23; and for school debt at a rate of $4.22 per $1,000 they will receive $66,153.84.

Escanaba taxpayers will raise a total of $126,581.18 at a rate of $8.08 per $1,000 valuation to aid in financing the cost of Delta County government. The county tax rate last year was $7.50 per $1,000 valuation. The county tax rate in Escanaba is based on the county equalized valuation.

equipment and other merchandise for home, farm and car, he said. Established in 16 southwest states, opening of the Escanaba outlet is one of the first in the current Coast-To-Coast central organization's expansion program.

Coast-To-Coast is in its 24th year. Its growth is explained by the fact that its local owners are "fully appreciative of their responsibility to their respective communities," it was reported.

Upton invites people of this area to his grand opening and announces that coffee and doughnuts will be served free of charge this Friday and Saturday. Special gifts will be offered also, he said.

Upton and his family reside in Escanaba.

WHO CAN HELP YOUR HEARING?

I Can!

I am a trained Sonotone Hearing Aid Consultant. By training and long experience, I have helped hundreds to better hearing. Now I have a wonderful new hearing aid to help you break through that iron curtain of deafness, and bring back conversation, music—the laughter of life.

This is the brilliant, new "1200." Here, for the first time, Sonotone has put not three—but FOUR—transistors in a hearing aid to bring you DOUBLE hearing help—

- MORE POWER than ever before, for easier hearing—NOW.
- RESERVE POWER, so you can use this Sonotone for years to come.

If your present hearing aid is unsatisfactory—or if you hear but don't understand—you owe it to yourself to investigate just how valuable this splendid new Sonotone can be for YOU.

And remember, if hearing help is possible, I can bring it to you. Come in and let me prove it. There's no obligation.

Rotarians Hear School Class

Demonstrating a social studies class, sixth graders of the Jefferson School and their teacher, Miss Berenice Firkus, appeared before the Escanaba Rotary Club at its meeting yesterday noon at the Delta Hotel.

The demonstration was particularly effective in revealing the scope of information acquired by the students in their current study of the Near East, and the students' understanding of forces and conditions that brought social and economic change to the people of the Near East over a period of many centuries.

The enthusiasm of the students for their subject and the ability of Miss Firkus to arouse and sustain the pupils' eagerness demonstrated the successful teaching method and the successful teacher. Miss Firkus was introduced by John A. Lemmer, superintendent of schools.

A feature of the Rotary Club program was the presentation by Keith Molin, Escanaba Senior High School student, of a safe driving message. He urged participation of every motorist in "Safe-Driving Day" to be held Dec. 15, and presented President Eisenhower's plea for "a day without a single traffic accident throughout the entire country."

Guests at the meeting were Rotarians Russell Watson of Manistique and Howard Scott of Duluth.

Police Trace Accident Gun

Michigan State Police ballistics experts in Lansing have reported that the bullet that struck Robert Van Ende, 46, of Armada, Mich. in a hunting accident in the Stonington Peninsula Nov. 17 was fired from the gun of Timothy Simmons of Royal Oak.

Simmons was one of several hunters who fired shots at deer at the time Van Ende was struck in the knee by a .32 caliber bullet. It was impossible to determine which hunter was responsible for Van Ende's injury. State Police recovered the bullet from Van Ende's knee and sent to the ballistics laboratory the rifles of hunters using .32 caliber bullets.

The tests indicated that the markings of Simmons' rifle bullets corresponded with the bullet that hit Van Ende.

Prosecutor Nick Chapakis reported that it has not yet been decided what charge, if any, will be placed against Simmons.

Van Ende's injury was not too serious as the bullet did not strike a bone in his knee.

STANLEY DESCENDANT VISITS NEW SCHOOL.—Mrs. Eric Froberg, Escanaba, Mich., a great-granddaughter of Webster Stanley, was in Oshkosh last week and viewed the work in progress on the new junior high school bearing the name of her noted predecessor and founder of Oshkosh. Mrs. Froberg first came to Oshkosh a year ago for its centennial and was entertained by Miss Fannie Medberry, an aunt of Milton Seefeld, a school board member who showed her the school Monday. Mrs. Froberg's mother was the daughter of Henry Stanley, son of Webster Stanley. (Oshkosh Daily Northwestern Photo)

Deadline Is Jan. 3 For Candidates In Township Elections

Prospective candidates for township offices in the townships of Delta County and throughout the state have until 4 p. m., Jan. 3, to file nominating petitions so their names will be on the ballot at the spring election.

Nominating petition forms may be obtained by candidates from the clerk of the township, and they must be filed with the clerk after they have been filled out.

At the township elections to be held the first Monday in April, voters will elect a supervisor, clerk, treasurer, members of the board of review and two trustees, all for terms of two years each.

In townships where the number of candidates require it, primary elections will be held Feb. 21.

Ensign Township in Delta County, which has a township park system, will also elect a park and highway commissioner.

Anderson sang "God Understands" and "I Have A Friend", the last hymn in Swedish. Accompanist was Mrs. F. M. Fernstrom.

Pallbearers were Erick Fredrickson, Nels Swanson, August Eckman, Emil Stenstrom, George Hedsten and Zlatko Derouin.

Out-of-town relatives attending were Hjalmer Norrell, Chicago, and Mrs. Donald McGee, Benton Harbor.

County-School Tax Bills Out

Owners of taxable property in the city of Escanaba tomorrow will begin receiving their bills for the payment of county and school taxes at levies slightly higher than last year.

The total levy for county and school purposes this year in the city of Escanaba is $324,183.25, compared to last year's total of $308,743.24.

School tax this year in the city of Escanaba will be based on the state equalized valuation of property assessed for tax purposes, rather than on the lower county equalized figure. For this reason the school tax rate will be $8.39 per $1,000 valuation, or $1.39 per $1,000 above the rate set by the Delta County Tax Allocation Commission.

Escanaba city schools at the $8.39 rate based on the state equalized valuation will receive $131,448.23; and for school debt at a rate of $4.22 per $1,000 they will receive $66,153.84.

Escanaba taxpayers will raise a total of $126,581.18 at a rate of $8.08 per $1,000 valuation to aid in financing the cost of Delta County government. The county tax rate last year was $7.50 per $1,000 valuation. The county tax rate in Escanaba is based on the county equalized valuation.

Tableaux Presented At Holy Name High

A tableaux, "Mary's Gift", was presented this afternoon at Holy Name High School to the students and faculty members in commemoration of the end of the Marian Year. The program is being given by the sophomore English class and the Glee Clubs.

Scenes portrayed the Nativity, and the apparitions of the Blessed Virgin Mary at LaSalette, Guadalupe and Fatima. Participants were Judy Frederickson, Kathleen Hughes and Lorraine LaMarche as Blessed Mothers, Sharon Herro as the narrator, Michael Lynaugh, Tim Runkel, Jack Sorby and John LaFave as shepherds and Bill Bunville as Juan Diego.

Soloists during the program were Jean LaBranche, Janice Gregory and Leone Lancour.

National Guardsmen Will Be Inspected In Ranks Tonight

All members of Company C 107th Engineers will be inspected in ranks tonight by the new Army advisor, assigned to the 107th Engineer Battalion Headquarters at Ishpeming. This will mark the first of monthly visits by Major James F. Reed, regular Army officer. The major recently returned from a tour of duty in Korea and Japan, where he served with the 3rd Engineer Combat Battalion.

Accompanying him to Escanaba will be Major Carlton Babb, administrative officer for the battalion, and Sgt. Gibbs, Army advisor. All phases of administration, along with the unit's training will also be inspected at this evening's drill.

Capt. Johnson, company commander announced that the present recruiting has slowed down some but with the addition of two new men the unit strength now stands at 95 enlisted men. A goal of 100 has been set for the month of December and a future strength of a full quota of 110 men is set for the months of January and February.

Capt. Johnson has also announced the following changes in officer and non-commissioned officer assignments within the local company. Lt. George C. Anderson has been named unit plans and training officer, and company executive. Lt. Eldred Sattlem has taken command of the unit's first platoon and Lt. Stephen Frado is in command of the second platoon. Sgts. Charles Oslund and Joseph Simons have been named platoon

Coast To Coast Hardware Opens Here Wednesday

The formal opening of the new Coast-To-Coast store at 1210 Ludington St., in Escanaba this Wednesday was announced today by Robert Upton, owner.

"I have chosen Escanaba after a very careful survey of this and other trading areas," Upton said. "Although I shall have the advantages of the purchasing and merchandising of the Coast-To-Coast organization of 620 retail outlets, this store is locally owned."

Upton's store features complete lines of hardware, automotive supplies, housewares, sporting goods, home appliances, paints, farm sergeants of the first and second platoons, respectively.

Rotarians Hear School Class

Demonstrating a social studies class, sixth graders of the Jefferson School and their teacher, Miss Berenice Firkus, appeared before the Escanaba Rotary Club at its meeting yesterday noon at the Delta Hotel.

The demonstration was particularly effective in revealing the scope of information acquired by the students in their current study of the Near East, and the students' understanding of forces and conditions that brought social and economic change to the people of the Near East over a period of many centuries.

The enthusiasm of the students for their subject and the ability of Miss Firkus to arouse and sustain the pupils' eagerness demonstrated the successful teaching method and the successful teacher. Miss Firkus was introduced by John A. Lemmer, superintendent of schools.

A feature of the Rotary Club program was the presentation by Keith Molin, Escanaba Senior High School student, of a safe driving message. He urged participation of every motorist in "Safe-Driving Day" to be held Dec. 15, and presented President Eisenhower's plea for "a day without a single traffic accident throughout the entire country."

Guests at the meeting were Rotarians Russell Watson of Manistique and Howard Scott of Duluth.

Mail Early To Assure Your Gifts Will Arrive In Time

OVER the year post office patrons have learned that it pays to mail early during the Christmas holiday season.

The tremendous volume of mail that is handled by the post office during the Christmas holiday season could not possibly be handled efficiently without the cooperation of the mailing public.

Parcel post packages out of state should be in the mail by this time but if they are not, you had better hurry to the post office with them to guarantee their arrival before Christmas, Dec. 10 is the recommended deadline for parcel post with local addresses.

Christmas greeting cards should be separated into two bundles before mailing—one marked "For Local Delivery", the other marked "For Out of Town Delivery".

They can be mailed with a two-cent stamp but if you really want to be sure

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

The recent and untimely death of the great French fashion designer, Jacques Fath, was duly noted in the American press but at least one of my readers professes to be confused about some of the language used to chronicle the sad event. Enclosing a clipping from a great New York Sunday newspaper, headlined DEATH OF FATH SADDENS HAUTE COUTURE OF PARIS, she asks if I would please enlighten her on the meaning of "haute couture," since it is not to be found in her dictionary.

Haute couture means "high fashion" and, in the words of the newly published MODERN TEXTILE DICTIONARY by George Linton, "Haute couture is a fashion which appeals especially to the smart, alert, style-conscious woman. It is often too new, extreme or unbecoming for acceptance by the average woman . . . It is always well designed but is suitable only for certain social functions and within limited social circles."

In the case of this headline, of course, "haute couture" is used metaphorically to indicate the entire world of the Paris fashion industry.

Although my correspondent is quite right in saying that this phrase is not entered in the general run of American dictionaries, its meaning should not have been too hard for her to discern, since "couturier," meaning a male dressmaker, is well known in this country and entered in all standard dictionaries.

The same dispatch, incidentally, contains a much less familiar French word, "midinette," in this sentence: "It is known that midniettes visited his (Fath's) home daily to offer their blood for transfusions." Because of the context in which the word was found, many readers may have confused "midinette" with "mannequin" and thought it meant "model." At any rate that's what my correspondent did. Actually a "midinette" is any kind of a working girl in France, so called from the fact that they pour out of factories and shops for lunch promptly at "midi"—noon.

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

James McNeill Whistler, the celebrated artist, rather prided himself on his knowledge of French. In a fashionable Paris restaurant one evening he insisted upon ordering the dinner and got very angry when a friend tried to help the waiter understand everything that was being said. "I am quite capable of speaking French without your assistance," he grumbled.

"That may well be," soothed his friend, "but I just heard you distinctly place an order for a flight of steps."

The world traveler entered the hotel barber shop and, as luck would have it, chose the chair of the one who, for some reason, always seemed to average the biggest tips. "I suppose you shave a lot of fa-that they have reached their destination, greetings cards should carry the first-class postage of three cents

First class mail can be forwarded or returned if necessary. Also, the sender may include written messages with his card if the card is sent first class mail. These postal privileges are not authorized for third-class mail.

Christmas greeting cards addressed outside the state should be mailed by Dec. 15. Local delivery requires mailing at least a week before Christmas.

Perhaps the biggest headache that confronts postal clerks during the holiday season is the problem of poorly-wrapped packages. Be sure your parcels are securely wrapped, properly tied and, of course, properly addressed, including a return address.

Remember, too, that during the holiday mail rush your parcels may be subjected to more rough handling than normally. Use adequate packing where necessary. Watch size and weight limitations. Oversize packages have to be returned to the sender. Check the post office about these limitations as they vary according to destination. The maximum limits are 100 inches combined length and girth and 10 pounds in weight.

One other pointer. You may be able to avoid long waiting in line at the post office if you do your mailing between the hours of 8 to 10 in the morning. The later afternoon hours are always bad during the holiday season.

Indian Insults

IN recent weeks, Krishna Menon, India's so-called delegate to the United Nations, has gone out of his way to insult American newsmen who were interrogating him in the friendliest manner.

Once this occurred at a press club affair in New York, where a reporter asked Menon at the conclusion of his talk what might be done to improve U. S.-Indian relations. Menon replied: "I consider that an insulting question." Just why is beyond all fathoming. One would think he had been called a traitor.

Then, appearing on a well-known television interview show run by Edward R. Murrow, Menon touched bottom. Murrow publicly thanked Menon "for letting us come into your home." Menon replied: "That's more than you would do for me." Oddly, Menon had been a guest in Murrow's home just a few days earlier.

There can be no possible excuse for these tasteless, stupid remarks. The most charitable view Americans can take is that Menon does not represent India at all, but is only filling in until someone more suitable can be found.

Unhappily he is accredited not to the U. S. government but to the UN. If it were the former, it might be possible to declare him persona non grata and send him packing. This strange quirk of a man ought to do his dark brooding in the privacy of his own room, not in the councils of the world.

It wouldn't be possible for high school teachers to teach all of the things the students think they know.

characters in this shop?" essayed the traveler.

"Not at all," the barber assured him gravely. "You're the first one this month, sir."

The Doctor Says . . .
Drugs, Change of Climate
May Help Bronchitis Victims

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

"My husband," writes Mrs. H., "has a bronchial cough. It is worse in the morning and sometimes it is hard for him to breathe. Is there anything he or I can do to bring him relief?"

It would seem from this letter that Mrs. H.'s husband is severely afflicted with chronic bronchitis. The fact that he finds it difficult to breathe may mean that there are already some complications which have developed in the lungs or in the heart. Certainly he should take active steps to try to relieve the situation before it gets any worse.

BRONCHITIS is an irritation of inflammation of the breathing passageways leading into the lung tissue itself. It is almost always the result of some irritation from germs, viruses, irritating fumes, or other elements in the air which bring about changes in the lining of these passageways. In general, bronchitis is considered to be either acute or chronic. When acute the onset is sudden and the early symptoms may be much like those of an ordinary cold. Not infrequently there is a feeling of heaviness over the chest and fever is common. The most characteristic feature is a cough which at first is dry but later is accompanied by mucus secretion which is brought up with the coughing and brings temporary relief.

THE OUTCOME of acute bronchitis depends on the nature of the cause and whether it is mild or severe. Often the fever lasts only a week or so and then the cough becomes looser and greater relief is obtained from bringing up sputum. In those people who are weakened by starvation, disease, or by some other cause and in those who are aged, acute bronchitis is particularly dangerous.

Bronchitis also may develop slowly and be "chronic" from the start. The causes of chronic bronchitis are much the same as those of the acute variety. The symptoms likewise are similar but not so severe.

THE SUBSTANCE which causes the irritation should be removed, if possible. Drugs may relieve the symptoms somewhat. Every effort should be made to build up the patient into good health and avoid irritation to the air passages.

Change of climate, when it can be arranged, is an important part of treatment for many patients with chronic bronchitis. Often those who cannot seem to get over their chronic cough at home promptly improve when they go to a warm, mild, or dry climate. Of course, the result of such change depends to some extent on the cause of the bronchitis and also on how long the bronchitis has been in existence and its severity.

A long-lasting chronic bronchitis is not only distressing but also carries risks for the future—particularly that of bronchiectasis.

Today And Tomorrow

By WALTER LIPPMANN

LONDON—A few years ago I would have felt differently than I did last Tuesday morning in London when I had the good luck to see the state opening of Parliament and the tribute to Churchill in Westminster Hall. Anyone at any time would be fascinated by the splendor and brilliance of the ceremony in the House of Lords, and deeply moved by seeing full justice done publicly to the great man. But for an American today there was also, I could not help feeling, a poignant reminder that something at home, which is infinitely precious, is in danger of being lost.

That something is a loyalty to the enduring nation which is so compelling that it keeps party politics, and the competition for votes and for popular applause, in their proper place. That proper place is well below, and far apart from, the high concerns of the state in its dealings abroad and, at home, in the administration of justice. Churchill, in his speech replying to Mr. Attlee, spoke of "that characteristic British parliamentary principle, cherished in both Lords and Commons 'don't bring politics into private life.'" The principle, so an American can feel, is broader than that. It is not to let politics invade every nook and cranny of public life until the whole institutional framework of the nation is submerged and overwhelmed by ambitious and quarrelsome men.

UNIQUE PRINCIPLE

The British have their own way of applying the principle that the nation is above politicians and voters and the tides of opinion. Their way is unique, the product of their own history, and impossible, of course, to duplicate. But the principle itself does not depend upon having a radiant Queen to play the central part in an ancient rite. It depends upon the things for which Lincoln on the eve of the Civil War was reaching in the closing paragraph of his first inaugural address. "We are not enemies, but friends. We must not be enemies. Though passion may have strained, it must not break our bonds of affection. The mystic chords of memory, stretching from every battle-field and patriot grave to every living heart and hearthstone all over this broad land, will yet swell the chorus of the Union when again touched, as surely they will be, by the better angels of our nature."

It is not necessary, as our own history has shown, to have the pomp and circumstance of a monarchy and of an hereditary aristocracy in order to remember that there is a limit beyond which political passions must not go, or they will break the bonds of affection which hold the nation together in time of trouble. Our American unity has been a plainer one than is the British: it has been made up of respect for the principles and the usages and, above all, for the spirit of the Constitution.

SMELL OF INSURRECTION

It is that respect is now so gravely jeopardized. For what we call McCarthyism has begun to have something of the smell and sound of insurrection. The offense of this man is not only his contempt of the Senate but his contempt for those bonds of affection, for those mystic chords of memory, which make it possible for men to be free, and to differ, and yet to be one people. He has come into our midst not in order to unite us against our enemies but in order to divide us among ourselves. He claims for himself the right to treat all who oppose McCarthy as the enemies of America, and to contend, with the approval of his own infatuated supporters, that to keep McCarthy within the bounds of law and order is to betray the country.

Sen Knowland, who is a civilized man and a likeable one, said on Wednesday in announcing that he would not vote to censure, that "certainly we must . . . continue the power of the Senate to conduct investigations into the Executive branch of the government . . . We have a constitutional obligation to do that, and we must resist with all the power at our command, and it is a substantial power, an effort to curtail to the slightest degree that power of investigation." Just what, it may fairly be asked, does the Senator mean by "curtail"? For this is a government of equal powers, and if the Senator's words are to be taken as meant at face value, he was proclaiming that the rights of Congress are, as against those of the Executive and the Judiciary, unlimited rights. For if they cannot be curtailed "to the slightest degree," then they are absolute and unlimited.

What, I would like to know, is the Senator's constitutional philosophy? It is a serious question. For if he means what his vehement words say, he is claiming that Congress alone is the judge of how far it may go with the investigating process, that the Executive has no right and duty to defend his own constitutional prerogative.

Reds Romance Japanese To Keep Them Neutral And U.S. In Jam

By FRED SPARKS
NEA Staff Correspondent

TOKYO — (NEA) — Can that fast stepping burlesque team—Moscow & Peiping—tempt Tokyo from its American date?

Right now they're doing a daring dance behind fans labeled "Peace" and "Trade." If they can lure Japan, what's left of Asia's freedom will disappear, for outside of U. S. strength, only Nippon's growing military muscle can restore a balance of power in the Orient.

The Communists are pitching woo with a flock of business delegations and lovey-dovey statements. The clenched fist doesn't have to replace the deep bow as Japan's national greeting to smash what's left of Free Asia.

If they can just sell the Japanese "neutrality"—a la Big Brother Nehru—our first defense line will back up to San Francisco.

Even if Prime Minister Yoshida returns from Washington with a plane-full of dollar handouts, the Kremlin Advertising Firm will keep plugging: "Love That Ivan!"

You can't follow this deadly game without a score card, so here are the lineups of arguments—and a prediction:

WHAT FAVORS THE COMMUNISTS?

1. Bad business. Unlike West Germany, Japan never fully recovered. The birth rate zooms and these over-crowded islands—minus old colonies—scrape for survival.

Many look to mainland China—before the war Number One Client—to fill empty rice bowls. Russia and China have never made formal peace and now they say: "Get rid of those awful Americans and we'll throw so many orders your way you'll eat with golden chopsticks."

The Communists mix trade and traitors.

2. Anti-Americanism. It was our bombers—not Moscow's—that twisted Japanese cities. The memory of atomic mushrooms over Hiroshima and Nagasaki is particularly hard to erase.

This accounts for the hysterical howls against us since that Japanese fishing boat was dusted with H-Bomb particles near Bikini. Since then the nation has practically held a geiger counter next to each water tap.

In Germany, Russia split the occupation and their heavy-booted bully boys won hatred. Nippon has never seen Private Ivanovich in action and its post-occupation reaction is anti-Private Smith. Many girls who date GIs are snubbed by their own families.

3. Neutrality. Our ability to protect Japan has been questioned since we got stopped cold in Korea and Russia became an atom power. Many citizens doubt the Reds will suck their thumbs until the new American-equipped Imperial army is tough enough to walk alone. Mobs of Soviet and Chinese troops are but a ferry boat ride away.

There's tremendous pacifist sentiment. The idea of being "The Switzerland of the Orient" sounds mighty cozy.

WHAT FAVORS THE AMERICANS?

Domination of Asia. Thinkers know in a Chinese-dominated Asia Japan would merely be a machine shop—and have trouble collecting.

Recent frank British admissions about Peiping's sharp methods quieted many Japanese who remember when a Chinaman's word was as good as a contract in triplicate.

There was a stir when Jardine Matheson, Ltd., which has sold United Kingdom products to Asia since schooners sailed, quit China blaming Red meddlers. The Japanese have a strange habit of liking to get paid.

Politically, Japan would squirm as low man on the Chinese totem pole. Down deep Nippon still believes it has a divine destiny to "organize" Asia and feels the comeback trail might be lined with U.S. weapons.

2. MacArthur's policies. Despite instinctive bitterness over bombings and occupiers, most Japanese agree MacArthur's occupation was better than they dared dream about.

Inejiro Terada, who before the surrender organized geisha girls to poison GI invaders, said recently: "It sounds crazy now but we firmly believed the Americans would sterilize the males and make a new race by mating Japanese women."

As America pours in financial aid, a few hundred thousand Japanese POWs are still in Communist slave camps. Tokyo's leaders lunch with Ike—while Vishinsky vetoes Nippon's UN membership.

3. Hirohito. Even though this land was smoking rubble in 1945 Japan refused to give in until we guaranteed the Emperor's position. Although he's been "democratized"—and people don't have to look at the ground when he passes—Hirohito's throne is still a source of vast influence.

Karl Marx never allowed for royalty—even royal "Sun Gods." The Emperor is the symbol of the tight paternal pattern that backbones the rigid Japanese society. The family structure is a favorite Kremlin target, for Communists insist the only papa to listen to is the papa on Red Square.

At this time it seems the Bolshevik burlesque team can excite Japan—but not win it away from the U.S.A.

Further local depression or more American setbacks in Southeast Asia, however, could make it a photo finish for freedom.

So They Say

Anything they (Red Chinese) can do, we can do better. . . . Democracy is better than dictatorship.—India's Prime Minister Nehru.

The Communists have continued their repressive measures, and I believe the (Chinese) people would welcome an invasion by Chiang Kai-shek.—The Rev. Ernest Hotz, released by Reds.

The change in the nature of weapons has changed everything. Even Russia's blindest leaders now know that Russia will be devastated if war comes.—Historian Arnold Toynbee.

The South is now in the early years of its greatest period of change and ferment. As never before, industry is growing in our midst. . . . We shall, whether we like it or not, be forced to undertake far greater governmental responsibilities.—Texas' Governor Shivers.

Been doing it for 16 years. No pigeon has let me down yet. Englishman William Bergman, sends pay check home by carrier pigeon.

Roosevelt's good-neighbor policy (toward Latin America) is virtually dead, and nothing has been put in its place.—Prof. Seymour E. Harris, Harvard authority on Latin-America's economy.

One of the worst deterrents to individual citizen activity in movements for good government . . . is the fact that corporations and labor unions will not permit their officials to have lives and identities separate from their organizations.—Lucius E. Burch Jr., Memphis attorney

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON
(NEA Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The annoyingly noisy yak-yak of Israeli and Arab propaganda exchanges in the United States reached a crescendo just before the U. S. elections in November.

There is a strong feeling among some leading Administration officials that Israeli officials and American Zionists went clear out of bounds in working for the election of Democratic candidates and the defeat of Republicans.

Their action was based on a belief that Democrats were more friendly to the Israeli cause than the GOP. It can be reported authoritatively that this agitation did the Israeli cause no particular good in Washington.

The principal complaint of the Israel clique has been that the Eisenhower administration is now building up the strength of the Arab countries, while doing little or nothing for Israel.

ACTUALLY, ALMOST THE EXACT opposite is true. The total U. S. government aid to Israel is $340 million in round numbers. This includes $215 million of economic aid and Export-Import Bank loans of $135 million. In addition to this, United Jewish Appeal has collected over $400 million from Americans in bond sales and gifts which have been made exempt from U. S. taxes.

The total U. S. government aid to the Arab countries surrounding Israel is only a little over $100 million. The figures are Egypt $16 million, Jordan $9 million, Lebanon $7 million, Saudi Arabia $3 million plus an Export-Import Bank loan of $49 million, Iraq $5 million of economic aid plus an International Bank loan of under $13 million. Syria is not listed because this little country has refused offers of U. S. aid.

Also not included in the above figures are U. S. government appropriations of $150 million for relief of the Arab refugees from Israel. Of this sum, over $110 million has been spent to date. Private U. S. charities have also contributed over $8 million. United Nations have paid out $75 million for Arab relief.

IN SPITE OF ALL THESE FACTS, the American Zionist Bulletin charges that "our government (meaning the U. S.) is actually subsidizing aggression, strife and social decay" in the Middle East.

The specific Zionist charges are that "The U. S. government is now actively sponsoring: 1—The establishment of a network of military alliances—all excluding Israel; 2—The provision of economic aid AND ARMS to Arab states . . ."

The only basis for this charge is the fact that for the last several years, the U. S. has had what are known as "reimbursable military aid agreements" with Egypt, Lebanon and Saudia Arabia. This means that they can buy military equipment from the United States by paying cash on the barterhead.

Unfortunately, the dollar amounts of this aid have not been given out for security reasons. But official assurances are given that the amount of this aid is small. Very little of it is for arms. Most of it is spare parts for vehicles and nonmilitary supplies for troops.

THE MAIN PURPOSE of this aid is to strengthen the forces of these countries so they can maintain internal order and a stable government. And in all disbursements, an eye is kept on maintaining balance of power—not on trying to start any new wars.

Incidentally, Britain, France and the United States have guaranteed Israel against Arab or any other aggression. No such reverse guarantees have been given to the Arab states.

The realities of the situation in the Middle East today are that Israel is far stronger, militarily and economically than the Arab states that surround her. There is no real unity in the Arab league. The countries in the league all have so many internal problems that they couldn't launch a new aggression if they wanted to.

From the American point of view, the Mid-East situation is now far more stable than it was two years ago, when Secretary of State Dulles was greeted there with rotten eggs. There is well-grounded hope that this stability will improve, if the two sides will refrain from trying to stir up their feud by creating new incidents artificially.

Ben Helm's mild brown eyes shifted alternately from me to Martha. He took his pipe from his mouth. "That's no animal."

"Animal?" Martha arched her brows. "Oh, you mean my kitten," she said brightly.

He strode out to the hall. He had seen each of us come from there after he had heard us ascend stairs, so he had no trouble finding the way down to the cellar.

"He's going to be considerably embarrassed," Martha said.

Below us there were muttered voices and then a rather long silence and then feet coming up the stairs.

They stopped in the hall. I heard Hannah say tonelessly: "Please don't make a fuss. Just drive me to my car."

I stood up. Through cigaret smoke Martha was looking toward the hall. I moved forward. Helm was saying, "Miss Rahn, you don't just forget a thing like this." Then I was in the hall with them.

Hannah's eyes slithered past my chest and away. She wore her checked raincoat, belted and buttoned.

"She can't get away with this," I said.

"She!" Helm's pinched, slightly hooked nose over the tight mouth was like the beak of a bird of prey, but his fury was controlled.

He was doubly dangerous because he would never give way to temper. "What about you?" he snapped. "She—" The curved pipe moved in his hand. "What's that for?"

He was speaking to Martha. She had taken my heavy automatic out of the pocket of my raincoat that I had left in the living room. Her own gun was in the cellar, in her coat.

"You're not taking her away, Mr. Helm," she said crisply. "I'm afraid I didn't think quickly. I should have stopped you from going down to the cellar."

"Uh-huh," Helm said. "I wondered what made people like you two do such a thing. What's the story?"

I told him. Hannah said nothing. "You see," Martha said, jutting out the gun to show that she

February Draft Call Cut 3,000

WASHINGTON (P)—The Army today issued a draft call for 20,000 men in February, a drop of 3,000 from the quotas announced for the seven previous months.

The Defense Department said also that the 20,000 level will be maintained through next June.

The new call brings to 1,878,430 the total number drafted or earmarked for induction since selective service was resumed in September 1950.

The Army had no immediate explanation for the decrease in draft calls but officials pointed to recent increases in re-enlistment rates among men who originally volunteered for service.

Mrs. Ed Harrington, S. Houghton Ave., is a patient at St. Mary's Hospital in Marquette.

Jimmy Neff, who was a patient at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, is convalescing at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Carlson, 715 Manistique Ave.

Mrs. Florence V. Williams, Walnut St., expects to leave tonight on a business trip to Chicago. She will be gone several days.

Francis Hoholik, Route 2, was dismissed from St. Francis Hospital in Escanaba today. He is convalescing at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeCelle, S. Cedar St., left today on a business trip to Milwaukee. They were accompanied there by Mr. and Mrs. John Lasnoski, of Escanaba.

Park Here May Hold State Record

Indian Lake State Park may hold the 1954 state record for attendance, Victor J. Haas, manager reports.

Only one other city, Holland, which has not yet reported, may outrank it this year, he said.

A total of 3,480 permits was issued to campers at the park. Of these, 2,271 came from Michigan and others came from 39 states, Canada and the Hawaiian Islands.

Attendance was the highest ever recorded at the park since it was opened in the mid-1930s, the manager stated.

Carl Carlson Taken By Death At Family Home

Carl Jonas Carlson, 80, of 202 N. 15th St., died at 3 a. m. today at the family home. He had been an Escanaba resident for the past five years.

Born Oct. 28, 1874 at Smoland, Sweden, Mr. Carlson lived in Iron Mountain 50 years before coming to Escanaba. He was formerly employed at the Niagara Paper Mill, Niagara, Wis. He worshipped at the Mission Covenant Church.

Surviving are his wife, the former Louise Roman; five stepdaughters, Mrs. John Swanson, Mrs. Christ Rees, Mrs. Ernest Gustafson and Mrs. William Scott, all of Chicago, and Mrs. Axel Hegberg, Niagara, and three step-sons, Paul Anderson of Felch, Harold Anderson of Great Falls, Mont., and Oscar Anderson of Wedron, Ill.

Friends may begin calling at the Anderson Funeral Home Thursday afternoon.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Anderson Funeral Home chapel with Rev. John Anderson officiating. Burial will be made in Cemetery Park at Iron Mountain.

The program consisted of a study and discussion of Escanaba's power problem. Comparative facts and figures from solutions offered by the Alger-Delta Co-op, the Upper Peninsula Power Company and the proposed municipal plant were presented in form of a chart by Mrs. Robert Mosenfelder, local affairs chairman, and Mrs. Russell Johnson, League president. When the chart is completed, the League plans to make it available to the general public.

At the request of Mayor Harlan J. Yelland, the League of Women Voters in co-operation with the Escanaba Women's club is conducting a telephone campaign to get out the vote today for the special charter election. The League neither supports nor opposes the charter revision, but it is urging voters to express their own preferences.

Yoshida Reaches End Of Trail As Power In Japan

tapped for the Prime Minister's job.

He says he has a "fundamental conviction that Russia is never to be trusted," but he feels full diplomatic relations between Japan and Russia can "help avert war between the United States and Russia."

Hatoyama, former education minister who sat out World War II in disfavor with the militarists, will be assuming the job about nine years behind schedule.

He is the original organizer of Yoshida's Liberal party. He won the first postwar elections on a slogan of "Defend the Emperor, defeat the Communists." As he was about to assume the post of prime minister, the occupation purged him from public life.

Yoshida took over for a short term, stepped aside for a while, and then was named again in October 1948. The diminutive, cigar-smoking leader has run Japan ever since.

Wall Street

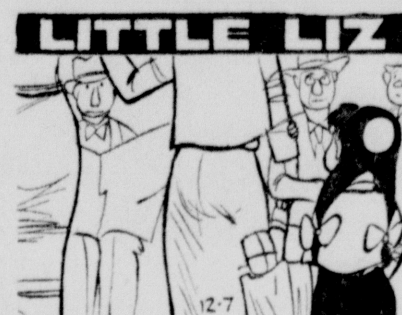

NEW YORK (P)—The stock market turned lower today in the early afternoon following a higher start.

Prices spread over a broad range with gains and losses running to around three points at the most.

Trading was brisk.

Losses were found in steels, motors, aircraft, utilities, chemicals, electrical equipments, railroads, oils, airlines, and movie stocks.

U. S. government bonds were largely unchanged.

Chivalry on public conveyances has always been more or less of a standing joke.

Voters League Studies City's Power Problem

Admiral Shifts Blame In Debacle At Pearl Harbor

at Pearl Harbor. Both were short of command and retired soon after the surprise Japanese blow.

Short died in 1949 at Dallas, Texas.

Navy investigations never developed into a court-martial for Kimmel. A 1946 congressional inquiry absolved him of dereliction but criticized what it called errors of judgment.

In the published excerpts from his book, Kimmel says neither he nor Short "had any clear perception of the fact that the Roosevelt administration was pursuing a course of action that made war with Japan inevitable."

Vitaly important Japanese messages, intercepted and decoded, were kept from him, Kimmel says, had he been properly alerted, he adds, he might have been able to ambush the Japanese striking force en route to Hawaii.

"I would have gone to sea with the fleet and endeavored to keep it in an intercepting position at sea," he says.

Kimmel also is critical of investigations which opened his and Short's conduct to question. The congressional probe, he argues,

Safe Driving Day Scheduled Dec. 15

WASHINGTON (AP) — American motorists have been challenged to eliminate all traffic accidents everywhere in the country on Wednesday, Dec. 15.

The challenge came Sunday night from President Eisenhower's action committee for traffic safety, which set the date to coincide with "safe driving day," already proclaimed by governors, mayors and country officials.

On the comparable Wednesday last year, 60 persons were killed and 1,807 injured in 4,907 traffic accidents. Highway fatalities have averaged 104 a day during the last two years.

Rear Adm. H. B. Miller, ret., director of the committee, said the American Assn. of Motor Vehicle Administrators compiled the figures.

Story Of Santa Aids Development Of Most Children

By BRUCE HENDERSON
(Newsfeatures)

DALLAS—A psychiatrist believes most children will be happier if they find out about Santa Claus themselves.

Preserve your child's faith until he reasons that it's not the bewhiskered gent but the spirit he represents that puts those gifts under the Christmas tree, says Dr. James S. May.

That way, May advises, your youngster won't be let down abruptly.

May, director of a child guidance clinic, thinks Santa Claus is mighty important to the younger crowd and should be handled deftly.

He offers these pointers:

When little Beauregard first asks, "Is there a Santa Claus?", he's usually worried and fishing for reassurance. Maybe he has spied two St. Nicks on the street or heard playmates' gossip.

Don't disappoint him at this point by blurting, "No, there isn't any Santa Claus," or make him suspicious by dodging the question. Reassure him. Say something like, "Of course there is a Santa Claus. He means everything that's good."

"The child may want this reassurance one or two years. As long as you think he does, give it. Try to handle it in terms of what you think he knows."

As the youngster's reasoning develops, he will usually learn the answer himself and be mature enough to accept it. Now he wants to see what you'll say.

"When you see that's the case, don't ease him along any more. Tell him."

How?

"Be forthright. Tell him there is no real Santa, that it has been a game you've been playing. And you know he wouldn't want to spoil it for the younger children."

Tha should settle it, May says, with the child not hurt—and pleased because he came on the answer himself.

As a psychiatrist, May approves the Santa Claus myth if it is handled correctly.

"When used to give the child a concept of good will it is helpful. But Santa Claus should not be set up as a judge in the child's mind. You know what I mean: 'Be good, Johnny, or Santa won't bring you anything for Christmas.'"

The psychiatrist says it could be tough on a child for his parents not to let him believe in St. Nick.

"It's so much a part of our cultural pattern the youngster who does not believe is on the outside," he says. "It is important for children to have things in common. And the more pleasant experiences, the better prepared a child is to meet the inevitable unpleasant experiences of life."

Dr. May believes Santa Claus and Christmas help a child feel closer to his parents by sharing an enjoyable event.

"Families don't get together enough these days," he says.

Now—revolving shelves put all foods at your fingertips! A simple twist of the wrist, and the back area of the revolving shelves is right in front. It's such convenience that makes this new General Electric combination refrigerator-freezer a gift with true Christmas enchantment. You see what you want, and you pick-up what you want without overturning other foods—no more hard-to-reach corners. And you can widen—or narrow—the spacing between these sturdy shelves to accommodate bottles, jars, bowls and pies without removing the food and without lifting the shelves. There's more shelf space, too—actually 8 per cent more than in previous conventional shelves.

Boy, 10, Sees Father Get Killed By Tree

ANN ARBOR (AP)—William L. Geer, 53, was killed Sunday by a falling tree while his 10-year-old son, David, watched in horror. Washtenaw County sheriff's men said David told them he and his father were cutting down a tree in the woods near their home in Chelsea when the tree split down the middle and fell on Geer. David ran for help to a nearby farm house, but his father was dead when he returned.

Contract Bridge

By Josephine Culbertson

CONCERNING PENALTY
DOUBLES

For reasons which this writer has never been able to fathom, a great many experts are willing to take far greater risks offensively than defensively. They do not mind stretching to reach a doubtful contract of their own, but even when everything points to the fact that the opposition has done the same stretching, they have the most curious aversion to putting in a penalty double that might go wrong.

It goes without saying that a player should not double closely when his action is apt to help declarer locate key cards, but failure to double under such circumstances as below is utterly inexcusable.

East dealer.

Both sides vulnerable

The bidding:

East South West North
3 4 Pass 4NT
Pass 5 Pass Pass

Even though South arrived at a contract that could have been punished, he could not be blamed for his bidding. Who can allow for a hand as bad as North's? Anyway, the penalty at five clubs undoubled was not too serious—only 200 points net. (South had 100 honors.)

It is clear that South owed a vote of thanks to West for not doubling and increasing the net penalty by 500 points!

In the postmortem West argued that he hadn't known that "South would have put out his neck so far," but this was a very lame excuse for West's failure to double! The fact was that South had a baffling problem after East opened with three spades, and his four-spade cue-bid was probably as good a solution as was available. (Observe that if South had found West's hand opposite him, he could have made a slam in any of three suits.)

West, however, was in a position to know, from his own holding and partner's vulnerable bid, that South was going to pick up a "bust" dummy, and so it was absurd for West not to double five clubs.

New Convention Hall In Detroit Won't Be Ready For GOP In '56

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's hopes of getting the 1956 Democratic and Republican national conventions vanished when an architect reported the city's proposed new convention hall will not be completed until 1957.

"There's no reason why we should not try to get the 1960 conventions," said one city official.

Flint Dealer Wins Duck Calling Title

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP)—Art Beauchamp, a Flint, Mich., sporting goods dealer, won the world's championship duck calling contest Saturday competing against honkers from 12 states.

Twelve contestants, each champ of his state, hooted and honked as upward of 5,000 spectators—duck callers included—made up for any lack of calling quality with quantity.

Beauchamp, a native of Humphrey, Ark., is a former heavyweight golden gloves boxing champion. It was his fourth appearance in the world tournament.

Road Became Too Hot To Use

WINNSBORO, S. C. (AP)—Forest fire fighters welcomed a new road as a firebreak but instead the roadway suddenly flared up with flames and the fire spread to the other side.

The fire fighters knew it was dry from prolonged drought but they didn't think it was that dry. The road fire was caused by a coat of surfacing material poured on preliminary to the gravel application.

MANISTIQUE

City Cannot Postpone Solution Of Sewage Problem, Mayor Notes

The City of Manistique can no longer postpone construction of a sewage disposal plant and system and it now must take action to halt pollution of the Manistique River and Lake Michigan by sewage, Mayor A. W. Heitman told Rotary Club members Monday noon.

Mayor Heitman and City Atty. William Hood outlined the sewage problem here and traced the history of pollution of waters in the river and lake. Both were introduced by Neil Reese, club program chairman.

Pollution of the Manistique River was called to the attention of the city as far back as 1931, Mayor Heitman noted in tracing action of the state in attempting to halt dumping of raw sewage into the stream.

On Jan. 2, 1934, voters here defeated by a vote of 60 to 487 a proposal to issue bonds of $119,250 for construction of a sewage disposal plant and system, and, though the city was notified several times later, no action was taken. However, consulting engineers were engaged in the 1930s and a survey also was made in 1942.

More Than Local Concern
"The failure of the city to halt pollution has been due to financial difficulties, and the necessity for meeting other municipal needs with higher priority," Heitman told Rotarians. "It does not reflect failure on the part of officials to take cognizance of the problem," he added.

He noted that officials here at one time believed flowage in the Manistique River was sufficient to oxidize sewage, and that generally it was felt Manistique was not near other communities, and therefore, sewage emptied in the lake would not affect others.

"But it is not just a matter of what we are doing in our own backyard," he declared. The mayor emphasized that particularly with the development of the Mackinac bridge and the St. Lawrence seaway, it is more incumbent than ever that the city halt water pollution with sewage.

"It has become a national—even an international—concern with these developments," he pointed out. The beaches here are not just the property of Manistique residents, but of the public, the city official stated.

The city has several major problems in connection with improvement of its sewerage system, the mayor explained. Rock on the eastside, which led to laying of water and sewage line in the same trench, and sand on the westside of the city, where the water table is higher than sewer lines, are among major problems here, he said.

Port Huron Action
In addition, storm water flows through sanitary sewer lines. This will mean that a disposal plant here will have to be large enough to handle storm water as well as sewage, Heitman pointed out. The mayor suggested that the city correct its sewer lines, as a first step, and then also build a disposal plant. The plant will cost about $150,000 and the sewerage lines about a half million dollars, he stated.

Atty. Hood told Rotarians of the Supreme Court ruling, reversing a circuit court decision, forcing the city of Port Huron to stop polluting waters of the St. Clair River. The fact that Canadian cities also were polluting the water had no bearing on the Court's decision, Atty. Hood noted.

The Michigan Water Resources Commission started chancery proceedings in circuit court here Nov. 16 to force the city to construct a sewage disposal plant and necessary intercepting sewers within a reasonable time.

Theresa Hoholik, Donald J. Noble Exchange Vows

Miss Theresa Mary Hoholik, sister of Mrs. Clyde Chartier, of Indian Lake, became the bride of Donald J. Noble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Omer Noble, Superior, Wis., on Saturday, Nov. 27, at the Cathedral of Christ the King in Superior. The Rev. Fr. Irving Mayette officiated at the 11 a. m., candlelight ceremony, before an altar background of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Miss Loretta Hinkson, of Manistique, Mrs. Leonore Hokkala and Mrs. Jean Jenda, sisters of the bridegroom, attended the bride. Chester Jenda was best man and Glen Hope, Joseph Noble, Edward Palmer and William Cashman were ushers.

Miss June Baclawski was organist and soloist.

The bride's gown was ball-length, of Chantilly lace over tulle, with bodice fashioned with a Peter Pan collar sprinkled with rhinestones. Her shoulder-length veil was caught to a cap of lace and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Her attendants wore gowns of turquoise taffeta and tulle and carried bouquets of red and white carnations.

The couple will live at 4007 E. Itasca St., Superior after a trip in the south.

The bride is a graduate of Manistique High School and Marquette School of Nursing. The bridegroom served six years in the Navy and is now employed in the engineering department of the Wilson Transit Co.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Neil Enright, Marquette; Mr. and Mrs. George Poeth, Menominee; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Snyder, Gilbert, Minn.; Miss Loretta Hinkson, Manistique; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cashman, St. Cloud, Minn.; and guests from Duluth.

Over 2,000 Visit With Santa Claus

Santa Claus had his biggest party in the past five years here Saturday when between 2,000 and 2,100 youngsters visited with him and told of their Christmas wants.

Dolls for girls and trucks, graders and tractors for the boys led the list of pleas with Santa. But there were others too, including those for "puppy dogs" and "a baby sister."

Santa Claus arrived at 10 a. m., with cutter and reindeer and for nearly five hours chatted with youngsters at a party in the old gymnasium. Enough treats were on hand for all, but color books were gone before all youngsters came. Santa reported. Children received candy, oranges, a bag of toys, and a top as well as color books.

After the children's party, St. Nick visited patients in Wendland and Cloverland Convalescent homes. Later he plans to visit sick children unable to attend his party, and with hospital patients.

GLADSTONE

Gov. Beaton Visits Club

Tom Beaton, district governor of Rotary International, paid his official visit to the Gladstone Rotary Club at its regular weekly luncheon meeting Monday noon at the Yacht Club. The Gladstone club, of which Governor Beaton is a member, was the 46th of 49 clubs in the district to have been visited.

The speaker said Robert Millikan, world famous scientist and Nobel prize winner, has described the last 100 years as the greatest century in history for invention and discovery and he then went on to show how transportation alone had been developed to a point where the world has figuratively shrunk in size.

In tracing progression the past century he pointed to plumbing, telephone and telegraph, television, radio, modern warfare.

People, however, have now progressed in the same measure—and our visit is still restricted to narrow, selfish views—we are still self-centered and interested.

Seek Understanding

We have yet to learn to subjugate our own natural desires to profit for ourselves to experience the joy and satisfaction of serving others. Until we come to learn and experience these things have failed to live as individuals, as a community, and as a nation.

These are portents that reveal that mankind is not altogether blind to his own shortcomings. Men everywhere by their words and actions are revealing their inner hunger for understanding and good will and friendship.

Fifty years ago an organization was founded in Chicago on the simple idea that from friendship comes understanding and from understanding good will.

That concept was not new then or is it new now, but it possesses a universal appeal which men have found difficult to resist. It has helped to provide that understanding and friendship which men are seeking today, the speaker said.

Goodwill Builder

"It is the corner stone on which the great organization of Rotary world wide has been built," the speaker declared.

Governor Beaton told of the founding of Rotary 50 years ago by a young attorney named Paul Harris, the rapidity with which the idea caught fire and its rapid growth which made it a world organization in less than 16 years. Today there are over 8300 clubs in 89 countries of the globe with a total membership of over 400,000.

Four brief, well chosen poems were used to depict four great fields of service: vocational, community, club service and international.

Service above self always proves the Rotary motto "He Profits Most Who Serves the Best."

Following the grid banquet Thursday night there will be assembly of officers, committee chairmen and interested Rotarians, with Governor Beaton at the high school.

Legion Meeting—American Legion Post 83 will meet Thursday evening at 8 in the club rooms. All members of the convention committee are requested to attend.

City Cannot Postpone Solution Of Sewage Problem, Mayor Notes

The City of Manistique can no longer postpone construction of a sewage disposal plant and system and it now must take action to halt pollution of the Manistique River and Lake Michigan by sewage, Mayor A. W. Heitman told Rotary Club members Monday noon.

Mayor Heitman and City Atty. William Hood outlined the sewage problem here and traced the history of pollution of waters in the river and lake. Both were introduced by Neil Reese, club program chairman.

Pollution of the Manistique River was called to the attention of the city as far back as 1931, Mayor Heitman noted in tracing action of the state in attempting to halt dumping of raw sewage into the stream.

On Jan. 2, 1934, voters here defeated by a vote of 60 to 487 a proposal to issue bonds of $119,250 for construction of a sewage disposal plant and system, and, though the city was notified several times later, no action was taken. However, consulting engineers were engaged in the 1930s and a survey also was made in 1942.

More Than Local Concern
"The failure of the city to halt pollution has been due to financial difficulties, and the necessity for meeting other municipal needs with higher priority," Heitman told Rotarians. "It does not reflect failure on the part of officials to take cognizance of the problem," he added.

He noted that officials here at one time believed flowage in the Manistique River was sufficient to oxidize sewage, and that generally it was felt Manistique was not near other communities, and therefore, sewage emptied in the lake would not affect others.

"But it is not just a matter of what we are doing in our own backyard," he declared. The mayor emphasized that particularly with the development of the Mackinac bridge and the St. Lawrence seaway, it is more incumbent than ever that the city halt water pollution with sewage.

"It has become a national—even an international—concern with these developments," he pointed out. The beaches here are not just the property of Manistique residents, but of the public, the city official stated.

The city has several major problems in connection with improvement of its sewerage system, the mayor explained. Rock on the eastside, which led to laying of water and sewage line in the same trench, and sand on the westside of the city, where the water table is higher than sewer lines, are among major problems here, he said.

Port Huron Action

In addition, storm water flows through sanitary sewer lines. This will mean that a disposal plant here will have to be large enough to handle storm water as well as sewage, Heitman pointed out.

The mayor suggested that the city correct its sewer lines, as a first step, and then also build a disposal plant. The plant will cost about $150,000 and the sewerage lines about a half million dollars, he stated.

Atty. Hood told Rotarians of the Supreme Court ruling, reversing a circuit court decision, forcing the city of Port Huron to stop polluting waters of the St. Clair River. The fact that Canadian cities also were polluting the water had no bearing on the Court's decision, Atty. Hood noted.

The Michigan Water Resources Commission started chancery proceedings in circuit court here Nov. 16 to force the city to construct a sewage disposal plant and necessary intercepting sewers within a reasonable time.

Bridal Shower

Miss Glenda Repp was honored at a bridal shower Thursday evening at the home of Miss Kay Wood, 418 N. Houghton Ave. Assisting hostesses were Misses Pat Vertz, Sheila Larson and Joan Penlon.

Games were played during the evening and prizes were awarded. Lunch was served, after which Miss Repp opened many gifts.

Glenda will become the bride of Lawrence Heminger, of Gulliver, soon.

Over 2,000 Visit With Santa Claus

Santa Claus had his biggest party in the past five years here Saturday when between 2,000 and 2,100 youngsters visited with him and told of their Christmas wants.

Dolls for girls and trucks, graders and tractors for the boys led the list of pleas with Santa. But there were others too, including those for "puppy dogs" and "a baby sister."

Santa Claus arrived at 10 a. m., with cutter and reindeer and for nearly five hours chatted with youngsters at a party in the old gymnasium. Enough treats were on hand for all, but color books were gone before all youngsters came. Santa reported. Children received candy, oranges, a bag of toys, and a top as well as color books.

After the children's party, St. Nick visited patients in Wendland and Cloverland Convalescent homes. Later he plans to visit sick children unable to attend his party, and with hospital patients.

GLADSTONE

Gov. Beaton Visits Club

Tom Beaton, district governor of Rotary International, paid his official visit to the Gladstone Rotary Club at its regular weekly luncheon meeting Monday noon at the Yacht Club. The Gladstone club, of which Governor Beaton is a member, was the 46th of 49 clubs in the district to have been visited.

The speaker said Robert Millikan, world famous scientist and Nobel prize winner, has described the last 100 years as the greatest century in history for invention and discovery and he then went on to show how transportation alone had been developed to a point where the world has figuratively shrunk in size.

In tracing progression the past century he pointed to plumbing, telephone and telegraph, television, radio, modern warfare.

People, however, have now progressed in the same measure—and our visit is still restricted to narrow, selfish views—we are still self-centered and interested.

Seek Understanding

We have yet to learn to subjugate our own natural desires to profit for ourselves to experience the joy and satisfaction of serving others. Until we come to learn and experience these things have failed to live as individuals, as a community, and as a nation.

These are portents that reveal that mankind is not altogether blind to his own shortcomings. Men everywhere by their words and actions are revealing their inner hunger for understanding and good will and friendship.

Fifty years ago an organization was founded in Chicago on the simple idea that from friendship comes understanding and from understanding good will.

That concept was not new then or it is new now, but it possesses a universal appeal which men have found difficult to resist. It has helped to provide that understanding and friendship which men are seeking today, the speaker said.

Goodwill Builder

"It is the corner stone on which the great organization of Rotary world wide has been built," the speaker declared.

Governor Beaton told of the founding of Rotary 50 years ago by a young attorney named Paul Harris, the rapidity with which the idea caught fire and its rapid growth which made it a world organization in less than 16 years.

Today there are over 8300 clubs in 89 countries of the globe with a total membership of over 400,000.

Four brief, well chosen poems were used to depict four great fields of service: vocational, community, club service and international.

Service above self always proves the Rotary motto "He Profits Most Who Serves the Best."

Following the grid banquet Thursday night there will be assembly of officers, committee chairmen and interested Rotarians, with Governor Beaton at the high school.

Tom Nordberg, son of former Eskymo coach Carl Nordberg of Mackinac Island, earned his second football letter as a senior right half and fullback at Campion High School, Prairie Du Chien, Wis. . . Tom, who is 17 years old, weighs 168 and is 5-9, got his early training at the Escanaba Athletic Field when as a kid he would sit and watch his father putting the Eskymos through their paces. . . Coach Nordberg says Tom was running and catching a football before he was three years of age.

Final statistics from Wyoming University reveal that Pete Kutches, former St. Joe athlete, was a vital factor in the Cow-boys' successful football season. . . Operating as one of three varsity tailbacks, Kutches carried the ball 41 times for 167 yards, an average of 4.1 per trip. . . He also completed three of four passes for 55 yards, punted six times for 149 yards and scored 26 points, fourth highest on the team.

The Gladstone Braves will be unable to sweep championship honors in the Great Lakes Conference. . . Coach Don Pfothenauer's Gladstone football team captured the league championship with five straight victories. . . But Coach Cappy Keil's Gladstone basketball team plays too few games to be eligible for the GL cage crown. . . At the present, Gladstone plays seven conference games and the minimum requirement is eight (not counting the new provisional members—Escanaba, Stephenson and Calumet).

Four Menominee-Marquette boxers took part in a novice tournament held last weekend at Marshfield, Wis., and one of them came through with a championship. . . He was Virgil Bacon, the Upper Peninsula novice middleweight champion. . . Others who were eliminated in the tournament were Joe Morin, who lost in the finals, Roger Kapitiz and Jim Mc Vane.

Baltimore Boss Sends Catcher To White Sox

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—There's one thing about Paul Richards — he can't be accused of playing favorites. If the deep-thinking boss of the Baltimore Orioles surrendered his pitching staff to the Yankees, as some claim, he's evened matters up by turning his catching corps, Clint Courtney, over to his old boss, Frank Lane of the Chicago White Sox.

With this deal, Richards disposed of his last important trading material and should be left alone for a while to think.

Courtney, whose nickname is "scrap iron" and who without much argument is the battlingest player in the game today, could prove a key man in the White Sox pennant aspirations. His driving will to win, plus his burning hatred of the Yankees, might well keep the Sox from trailing off in the stretch, as they have the past three seasons.

Belittles Yogi
The first time we bumped into the squat, bespectacled young catcher was in the spring of '51, shortly after he had reported to the Yanks. The rookie's opening remarks still came as a mild jolt. "That Yogi Berra might be good," he conceded, "but if these birds'll only give me a chance I'll show 'em I'm just as good."

The kid (he's 26 now), didn't crack a smile as he went on to tell why he should be first string catcher for the world champions. He was in deadly earnest. And he has never ceased to seethe that the Yanks sent him to their Kansas City farm and then sold him to the Browns without having given him a fair shot at Yogi's job.

Tangles With Martin
The '52 campaign wasn't well under way before Courtney locked horns with Billy Martin of the Yanks, an old antagonist from

La Salle And Kentucky Rate 1-2 In Cage Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

La Salle and the University of Kentucky rated 1-2 today as the top college basketball teams in the country in a preseason Associated Press poll.

La Salle captured the NCAA tournament last spring, while Kentucky was ranked No. 1 in the final AP poll after that tourney was completed. Kentucky was undefeated in the 1953-54 season, and stayed out of the NCAA tourney because three of its stars were ineligible.

With 61 sports writers and broadcasters balloting, La Salle received 34 first-place votes and 17 for second to roll up 549 points. Kentucky got 13 first-place votes and 343 points based on 10 for first, 9 for second, etc.

The leading teams with first-place votes in parentheses:

Expect Record Field For U.P. Golden Gloves Bouts

Plans for the 1955 Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves championship tournament to be held here are shaping up and the sponsoring Escanaba Lions Club anticipates one of the largest entry fields in recent years.

The tournament will be split into two weeks this year. The preliminaries will be held on Monday night, Jan. 31, and the finals on Monday night, Feb. 7. The tournament will be held this year in the new Holy Name High School gymnasium which has a seating capacity of over 2,000.

Tournament manager Ken Gunderman has mailed entry forms to boxing centers in Sault Ste. Marie, Canadian Soo, Marquette, National Mine, Manistique, Menominee-Marquette and Iron Mountain.

Champs To Milwaukee
Golden Gloves boxing activity has shown a sharp upswing this fall and, with Escanaba's seven-man squad, the entry list is expected to reach 75 fighters by tournament time.

The Upper Peninsula tournament will crown eight champions in the novice division and up to eight, depending on the number of entries in the open division. All Upper Peninsula champions will enter the Milwaukee Journal tournament to be held in the Milwaukee Arena Feb. 15. Open division champions at Milwaukee will represent that city in the Tournament of Champions at Chicago.

Menominee Champ Wins
Menominee fighters, coached by Leo Legacy, got a jump on the rest of the Peninsula last weekend when they competed in a novice tournament at Marshfield.

Virgil Bacon, the Upper Peninsula 160 pound novice champion, waded through the novice tourney without trouble. Bacon knocked out Wally Weiman, Fond du Lac 160 pound champion, in 45 seconds of the first round in the windup. Bacon won the U. P. title here last year when he defeated Vic Sopina of Escanaba in the championship bout. The fight was stopped when Sopina suffered a broken nose after battling on even terms through a hectic first round.

Other Menominee-Marquette fighters who competed in Marshfield were Joe Morin, Jimmy McVane and Top Kapitiz.

Escanaba Boxers
Working out with the Escanaba team here are Sopina, Jim Brown, Dean Kalishek, Gerald Richer, George Hurley, Al Swanson, Gary Besson and Wayne Courier. Ron Vanderlinden, Upper Peninsula lightweight champ, has been ill and unable to attend workouts as yet. It is questionable if he will be able to fight this year.

A special workout will be held at Club 314 Sunday afternoon at 2:30 with Escanaba and Menominee fighters working together. Legacy plans to have a half-dozen of his boxers on hand to spar with the members of the Escanaba box-

Sports Roundup

Tipoff on how far along the football thinking of the new U. S. Air Force Academy in Colorado is: ground will be broken for a 60-000-seat stadium next spring, an eight-game plebe schedule has been slated for 1955, a Denver sports writer is being lined up as the athletic publicity director. . . and it's fully expected Army and Navy will be on the '58 schedule. . .

There were four different groups in Washington and New York trying to pressure Army into a Sugar Bowl acceptance. . . two weeks before the Navy game. . .

There's a parallel to be drawn in the thinking of Willie Mays and Ty Cobb, both nonpareils of their day. . . When Willie was asked what goes through his mind when he whips his arm back for a throw from center field, he replied, "I just throw. If I stop to think the man will score" . . . and when Cobb, who had perfected 11 sliding variations, was asked how he decided which to use as he was approaching a base he answered, "I just slide. Who's got time to make up his mind when the fielder's holding the ball?"

A now-it-can-be-told: When Fred Haney took over the Pirates in '53, he confided to us he had only two major leaguers on his entire roster. . . and neither was Ralph Kiner. . . "Why," gasped Fred, "he can't play ball at all." . .

It was 13 years ago, and Bob Snuffridge, the all-time All-America guard from Tennessee, was defending for the Philadelphia Eagles against the Washington Redskins on a point after touchdown attempt. . . Snuffridge burst through the middle to block the kick but the Eagles were offside. . . The 'Skins massed the middle, but again the ex-Vol smothered the kick. . . and again there was an Eagle infraction. . . So for a third time the Redskins booted, and a third time Snuffridge blasted through the cordon of blockers to muffle the boot. . . It was one of the great defensive sequences in football history, but not a word of it was printed in the newspapers. . . because that day, Dec. 7, 1941, the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor. . . just 13 years ago. . .

If you're shopping for a Jan. 1, 1956, Rose Bowl contender, jot down Stanford with an incoming sophomore bowl reputed to be even better than the Vow Boys of the mid-30s. . .

Ask Paul Brown why his team jelled after its sad start, and the first words come out, "Carlton Massey." . . The former Texas end was made available to the Browns' defense when, instead of being drafted into the Army, he was allowed to transfer his ROTC training to John Carroll University in Cleveland. . . Brown linebacker Tony Adamle, a medical student at Western Reserve of Cleveland, comes out to practice only on Thursdays, when defense is stressed. . . The strength of that defensive unit is accentuated by the presence of Ken Gorgal, an all-pro 1953 selection, on the bench because he couldn't crack the combine after missing one game. . .

The captain of the Browns, Don Colo, is from Brown, an Ivy League rarity in pro football. . . and a 260-pound defensive tackle who never played high school football. . . in fact, had to be shown a three-point stance when he went out for college football, by 155-pound line coach Gus Zitzke. . .

Allie Sherman got a boost from 12 to 18 grand re-signing as Winnipeg coach. . . a job he got because his old pro boss, Steve Owen, turned it down and recommended Allie. . . The American Broadcasting Company dropped $1,700,000 on the NCAA football telecasts this fall. . . The records may say he's 30, but the Giants' Charley Conerly is actually a gnarled 33. . . The LA Rams like 'em homegrown—19 of the 33 are west coast products. . .

Between you 'n' me, did Harry Craft leave the Yankee organization because the Yankee-engineered deal that shifted the A's to Kansas City with a Vank-reared general manager, snubbed him by installing Lou Boudreau as manager? . . . (NEA Feature)

Tigers Trade Dropto, Nieman, Gray To White Sox For Fain

By JOE REICHLER
New York (AP)—Frank Lane, the trade-conscious Chicago White Sox general manager, today went after the Kansas City Athletics in an effort to add to the two deals he completed Monday that brought three players from the Baltimore Orioles and three from the Detroit Tigers.

Without actually naming the players he hoped to pry loose from the Athletics, Lane left no doubt he was after third baseman Jim Finigan and pitcher Arnie Portocarrero, the two most desirable trading commodities in Manager Lou Boudreau's assortment of cellar-dwellers.

Lane said, "We've got enough players now to give Boudreau the guys he needs."

Traded 7 for 6
Lane swung the trades as the major league convention got under way. The two-day convention closed today.

The White Sox traded off seven players to get six. In the first trade, Chicago sent pitchers Don Johnson (8-7) and Don Ferrarese (18-15 at Oakland), catcher Matt Batts (.235) and infielder Fred Marsh (.306) to Baltimore for catcher Clint Courtney (.270), pitcher Bob Chakales (5-7) and infielder Jim Bridesower (.266). In the second transaction, Chicago acquired first baseman Walt Dropto (.281), outfielder Bob Nieman (.263) and southpaw Ted Gray (3-5) from the Tigers for first baseman Ferris Fain (.302), utility infielder Jack Phillips (.307 at Holly-wood) and right-handed pitcher Leo Christante (24-7 at Atlanta).

No cash was involved in either deal.

"We're trying to maintain a defense and add to our offense," Lane said.

Escanaba Hawks Likely To Play League Opener In Marquette Dec. 16

MARQUETTE (Special) — The Marquette Palestra, severely damaged by fire last Nov. 13, will not be ready for general skating until at least Wednesday night, Dec. 15, and the opening event there most likely will be the Escanaba-Marquette Northern Michigan Ontario Hockey League game Thursday night, Dec. 16.

This statement was made here today by Leonard G. McKie, Marquette parks supervisor, who has jurisdiction over the operation of the Palestra and Palestra artificial ice for the City of Marquette.

"The scaffold is still up in the main arena where workmen are repairing the main roof between the first and second arches on the south end," McKie said. "After that work is completed Wednesday or Thursday, it will take four days to make ice, and we are not planning on the ice being used until Wednesday night."

McKie said that if work progressed faster than it appears likely at present the Escanaba Hawks might have use of the ice Tuesday night, Dec. 14, for a practice session in preparation for the opening league game Dec. 16.

The roof at the south end and the south wall is being rebuilt. Considerable interior work also is required, and a complete new lighting system is being installed in the Palestra.

Present plans, McKie pointed out, call for necessary work required only to put the Palestra in safe operation for the winter hockey and general skating season. The Marquette City Commission has under consideration a permanent rebuilding program that would amount to Marquette winding up with a full-scale community building at the site of the present Palestra which adjoins the Marquette High School athletic field.

The City Commission has authorized City Manager James A. Cluto to contact the architectural and engineering firm of Harley, Ellington & Day to determine the cost of redesigning and remodeling the building to meet full-scale community building requirements.

This firm recently completed a renovation project in Detroit's Olympia Stadium.

Hoosiers Lose, Iowa Wins Second Straight

Louisiana State. It was the 30th home victory in a row for Kansas.

Five Overtimes

Tennessee Tech edged Eastern Kentucky 85-80 in five overtimes. This is a rarity but has happened several times before.

Vanderbilt topped the 100-point mark for the first time in its history in the process of downing Washington and Lee 104-88.

Wisconsin breezed to an 80-68 victory over Western Michigan with Dick Cable scoring 25 Wisconsin points while the University of Detroit won its third straight, beating Bowling Green of Ohio, 91-60. Loyola of Chicago whipped North Dakota State, 90-75; Washington University of St. Louis turned back Mississippi State, 66-44; Marquette crushed Creighton, 96-68; Tulsa trounced Baylor, 60-48; Arizona edged Kansas State, 86-81; and Colorado halted Brigham Young, 65-46.

Iowa, heir-apparent to the Big Ten throne, and rated No. 4 in the poll, opened its campaign with an 84-61 victory over Nebraska. The Hawkeyes built up a commanding lead in the second half and coach Bucky O'Connor wound up using 15 players. Deacon Davis and Bill Logan each scored 14 points for Iowa.

Dr. Phog Allen of Kansas sent four sophomores and a junior into action in the opener and they emerged with an 83-58 conquest of

Atomic Training Courses Offered

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission said that it is ready to launch the first of several projects aimed at furthering President Eisenhower's atoms-for-peace program.

The commission said it has completed arrangements for a special four-week course for foreign scientists in the use of radioisotopes, or tracer atoms. The training is termed non-secret.

Techniques to be taught can be applied in scientific, medical, agricultural and industrial work. Eisenhower's program, under which some fissionable material would be made available to foreign countries through the U. N., also envisages U. S. help in teaching non-military techniques to foreign scientists.

The special course, to open at Oak Ridge, Tenn., next May 2, will be identical with training given there six times a year since 1948.

The AEC did not say what further projects it has in mind in support of Eisenhower's atoms-for-peace plan.

HONORED—Dr. Vincent du Vigneaud, of Scarsdale, N. Y., has been named to receive the award of the American Chemical Society for his discovery of oxytocin, a substance of great value to nursing mothers. With his associates, Dr. du Vigneaud, a world-famous biochemist of Cornell University Medical College in New York City, performed a real miracle of research. Out of the hundreds of thousands of possible combinations to make up the molecular structure of oxytocin, they hit upon exactly the right one.

The strange actions of sound waves in shallow water can be compared to the breaking up of light into many colors when it is reflected from a thin film of oil.

Korean Maiden College Queen

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP)—Miss Yoon Min, an attractive sophomore from Korea is Waynesburg College homecoming queen this year.

There was nothing Korean about her attire when she was crowned at a football game. She wore a turtle neck sweater and skirt, bobby sox and two-tone sports shoes.

A fathead is also a cyprinoid fish (a kind of carp) that lives in Mississippi valley streams.

Arizona Ranchers Live Dangerously

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Cattlemen are still pretty independent in Arizona—and apparently as fearless as when they fought Indians for their ranges. It has taken a court order to prevent six Pima County cattlemen from keeping their cattle on the Air Force's 600,000-acre bombing and gunnery range west of Ajo, 90 miles southwest of here.
